

Ugandan national parks: Pure nature

Once in Africa, a safari in a national park is a must for everybody. The untouched nature, the tranquility and the unusual (wild) fauna makes such a safari an unforgettable experience.

Uganda is mainly known because of its unique population of mountain gorillas. But ornithologists and friends of butterflies will also like Uganda because of its species diversity.

10 national parks will serve for all your wishes

Uganda offers you with 10 national parks a wide choice for your safari. Nearly all of them are located in the western half of Uganda, where the climate is a bit more humid. But this does'n mean that all the parks are the same. Each one has its special features. What they all provide are insights into an original peace of nature which you will never forget.

Name	Area in miles ²	Distance from Kampala in miles
Murchinson-Falls-Nationalpark	2,409	143
Queen-Elisabeth-Nationalpark	1,229	249
Kidepo-Valley-Nationalpark	883	435
Mount-Elgon-Nationalpark	711	155
Ruwenzori-Nationalpark	618	242
Kibale-Nationalpark	476	217
Bwindi-Impenetrable-Nationalpark	205	280
Lake-Mburo-Nationalpark	161	149
Semliki-Nationalpark	137	242
Mgahinga-Gorilla-Nationalpark	24	311

Murchinson-Falls National park

The Murchinson-Falls National Park is the largest of all National Parks in Uganda. On over 3.900 sqk awaits you...

Read more ...

Queen-Elisabeth National park

Only half as big as the Murchinson-Falls National Park, but with more variety in landscape, is the Queen-Elisabeth National Park.

Read more ...

Kidepo National park

The 3rd biggest park in Uganda is the Kidepo Park. It is located remotely in the very northeastern part of Uganda, at the border ...

Read more...

Mount-Elgon National park

The showpiece of the 1.146 sqk comprising Mount-Elgon National Park is the mountain he is named after: The 4.321 m high...

Read more ...

Ruwenzori National park

The 996 sqk big Ruwenzori National Park protects the central region of the mountains of the same name, at the border to ...

Read more ...

Kibale-National park

The Kibale National Park evolved from a former forest reserve and received National Park status in 1993. He is spread over...

Read more ...

Bwindi-Impenetrable National park

The 331 sqk big Bwindi-Impenetrable National Park exists since 1991 in the southwest of Uganda. In altitudes of about 1.160 - 2.600 m ...

Read more ...

Lake-Mburo National park

Highlights of this just about 260 sqk big National Park are the Lake Mburo and the plenitude of antelopes. From these animals the name

Read more ...

Semliki National park

Regarding the landscape, this National Park is different compared to the others, because of its low altitude of about 700 m and ...

Read more ...

Mgahinga National park

The Mgahinga National Park is with 34 sqk the smallest and youngest national park in Uganda. He belongs to the protected areas of ...

Read more ...
